War Brings Huge Debts to Many Nations.

The London Economist for February places the total gross debt of Great Britain at 5,678,600,000 pounds ($27,636,000,000).

The French minister of finance in presenting the budget of 1918 estimated the public debt of France on December 31, 1918, at 115,166,058,000 francs ($22,227,000,000).

The public debt of Italy at the end of 1917 is estimated at about 35,000,000,000 lire ($676,000,000).

The debt of the central powers are estimated as follows: Germany, $25,408,000,000; Austria, $13,314,000,000; and Hungary, $5,704,000,000.

Our own public debt is now around $8,000,000,000, but more than half of this amount has been loaned to the allies. It is estimated that of the total net expenditures of the United States for the fiscal year 1918, exclusive of our advances to the allies, more than one-half will be defrayed by taxation, according to the Treasury Department.

American Destroyers in Submarine Zone Cover Many Miles.

Some indication of the ceaseless watch kept on the high seas, in the path of American troopships, by United States naval forces operating in European waters, may be gained from statistics just compiled at the naval headquarters in London. These statistics show that a single force of American destroyers operating from one base had steamed almost 1,500,000 miles up to April 1. The maximum distance covered by a single destroyer was more than 580,000 miles from May 1, 1917, to April 1, 1918. This destroyer was one of the first to arrive abroad after war was declared.

It has been announced that Vice Admiral William S. Sims, commanding United States naval forces abroad, offered to send an auxiliary force composed of naval units to the French front at the beginning of the German offensive. The chief of staff of the French Navy and Gen. Foch did not consider that the circumstances demanded the presence of such a force at the front.

The French have had a naval division operating in the forces of the Lorraine sector for some time, and the naval units have made their part of the line as shipshape as possible, with every thing from big naval guns down to sleeping hammocks and ships' cats.

The American soldiers billeted in England for temporary training or en route for France are more and more compelling the admiration and cooperation of the English people. The National Sporting Club of London has started a series of weekly entertainment for enlisted men of the United States Army and Navy.

To The Teachers of Jackson County.

I would respectfully call your attention to the Summer School for teachers to be held at Cookeville under the management of the Tennessee Polytechnic Institute beginning June 10, and continuing six weeks.

I believe that attendance at this school will be a good investment for each teacher, individually, and for the children whom you are to teach. Teachers who make a sacrifice of time and expense in order that they may be better equipped for their work, should be favorably considered.

Satisfactory work in the Summer school will enable teachers holding two year certificate, which expire July 1, to a renewal. Expense will be at the minimum.

I also understand that State Supt. Sherrell will renew a certificate that has expired, if a teacher will attend a term of an accredited summer school and do satisfactory work.

The Polytechnic is an accredited school, as it is supported by the state. A summer school there is equivalent to a summer school at Murfreesboro, Johnson City or Memphis.

Most respectfully,
W. L. Dixon, Co, Supt.

Former Jackson County Doctor Goes to France.

Dr. H. H. Shoulders, who recently received his commission as captain in the U. S. Medical Reserve, leaves Nashville tonight to report at the Rockefeller institute, where for a short period he will be engaged in research work. From there he will go to Bellevue Hospital, New York, for a short course in fractures. After that course is completed he goes to Camp Upton, New York, for a brief course in military tactics, and thence overseas.

Since his enlistment in July of 1917, Dr. Shoulders has devoted his time to recruiting for the Medical Reserve. He has canvassed the entire state and enrolled many doctors for the service.

As assistant secretary to the State Board of Health and Registrar of Vital Statistics, Dr. Shoulders has, during the last five years, made a distinct contribution to his state and country. During the period of his tenure in this office, the public health work being done by the state has, for the first time, been recognized as conforming to the federal high standards. Largely through his efforts, Tennessee is now in the regular federal registration area.

Dr. Shoulders is a graduate of the University of Nashville of the class of 1900. Following his graduation he became an interne in St. Thomas Hospital. After a year at St. Thomas he was called by the State Board of Health; with which he continued until the time of his enlistment.

Dr. Shoulders is 31 years of age.—Nashville Tennessean.

Flour Situation Becoming Very Critical.

So critical is the wheat flour situation that on next Sunday, May 26, an appeal from Herbert Hoover, United States Food Administrator, will be read in every Sunday School and from every pulpit in the State, asking the people to adopt a wheatless ration until the next harvest. Sixty five hundred copies of this appeal have been sent out by Joseph Carthel, Secretary of the State Sunday School Association and the State Sunday School Representative of the Food Administration in Tennessee, one copy going to each Sunday School in the State.

This appeal, it is expected, will direct the attention of thousands of people to the seriousness of the flour situation who otherwise might overlook it. The County Food Administrators in each county have been urged by Dr. H. A. Morgan, Federal Food Administrator of Tennessee, to personally urge upon the pastors and Sunday School representatives of the State the importance of reading Mr. Hoover's message. It is hoped that as the direct result of this appeal thousands of congregations and Sunday Schools will adopt resolutions pledging their members to the absolute abstinence of wheat flour products until after the new crop shall be available.

The effort to reach the public and impress the necessity for flour conservation will not, however, stop with the churches. All of the fraternal organizations of Tennessee have been asked to have this message of Mr. Hoover read at their first meeting after next Sunday. They will also be expected to adopt resolutions pledging the members to a schedule of total abstinence from all wheat products until the new wheat crop comes in. Similar messages will be read to the Women's Clubs, all colleges, to other institutions of learning not through for the term.

The movement for a wheatless diet in Tennessee is gaining ground all the time. In Greene county the consumers have turned over to Charles W. Allen, the County Food Administrator, all of their wheat amounting to over two car loads and agree to go on a wheatless diet. Similar action has been taken by hundreds of families in Hawkins, Jefferson, and Sullivan counties in East Tennessee. Rutherford county under the leadership of J. Moore King, County Food Administrator, is going to turn in a large amount of flour and go on a wheatless diet. The merchants of Franklin in Williamson county have agreed to discontinue the sales of flour. Similar action has been taken in Humphreys, Warren, Sumner and other counties, where large quantities of flour will be turned over to the government.

Every merchant in Dyer county, one of the largest and most populous in the state, has turned his flour over to the government and agreed to discontinue sales of that commodity. On Saturday the flour of the county will be brought into Dyersburg and Newbern and turned over to the government, the meeting being featured by great patriotic rallies. Pictures of the flour will be taken. This movement is under the direction of D. W. Moss, County Food Administrator. Other counties have inaugurated similar programs.

CLOGGED LIVER

THIS WEATHER

Beware of a clogged up liver this time of year. You should take plenty of Vin Hepatica for keeping your liver, kidneys and bowels free of the poisonous substances that pile up in your system so fast in the winter months as the result of your eating so much heavy food and not getting enough exercise to keep your liver and other organs of elimination active as they should be.

These poisons lower your vitality. They make you the most susceptible to colds, grippe, sore throat, pneumonia and catarrh. This Vin Hepatica prescription is just the thing for you. It will not only give you a thorough cleansing of these organs, but will tone you up and make you feel your old self again. Get it from us.
